Key Notes

---

In the fall of 2002, Pastor Stan offered this prayer in poetic form as the Loudonville Community Church body moved from the original sanctuary into the one where we now sit. How would God move to fill this cavernous space? The desire was to grow in obedience and spiritual depth along with the desire to see healthy growth in numbers of people. Reflect this morning on how God has answered this prayer and many others.

Fill This Place

Fill this place
With your grace
So as we gather here in your Name;
We will meet You in power
In this holy hour,
And never again be the same.

May this room
Be a womb
Where children of God come to birth;
Then nurtured and fed,
Anointed and led,
We go forth to transform the earth.

On these pews
Help us choose
What is holy and righteous and true;
And come dwell within,
Defeating all sin,
As we model our lives after You.

May we all
Hear the call
Of the millions today who are lost;
And give us the nerve
To love and to serve,
Like Jesus, not counting the cost.

Let our walk
Match our talk
When we get up and walk out the door;
Sent forth on a mission
Of holy ambition
To follow the One we adore.
